

Director of Business Development, financial coach and style aficionado

Kylie Sultana wants you to have an amazing relationship with your finances. She believes that one of the biggest hurdles to creating wealth is the taboo around talking about money. As the Director of Business Development for Creo Wealth, she makes having a conversation about your ideal financial future feel like a breeze!

Her warm, relatable style along with over 25 years' experience in the financial services industry make Kylie a delight to work with. She brings a wealth of knowledge and insight from her time at ANZ, Merrill Lynch, HSBC, Deutsche Bank, and State Super.

By applying her financial expertise to her own circumstances, Kylie created a successful marriage, a thriving business and an abundant life. Against all odds, she transformed her poor beginnings growing up in government housing, changed her money story and reached her life goals.

Kylie understands the stresses and strains that financial worry can bring to a family. She and her husband Anthony have navigated life's most important financial decisions together, finding fun and effective ways to support the financial health of their relationship for over 25 years.

In 2015, Kylie and Anthony founded Creo Wealth with the mission of delivering financial planning with a fresh perspective and a personalized approach. They take the time to get to know each client, and create comprehensive financial plans tailored to each individual's values, goals and lifestyle aspirations.

As a financial coach, Kylie specializes in teaching couples about their money, and how to get in sync with each other to achieve their dream life. In Creo Wealth's online course, 'How to Talk Financially to Your Partner', she teaches couples how to remove money taboos and have money conversations that support a successful partnership. From learning how to make joint financial decisions, to mapping out a sustainable long-term budget, this course covers it all.

She is passionate about educating people about wealth-building, and has contributed her financial expertise to various publications, shows, and podcasts including A Current Affair, The Canberra Times, The Daily Mail, Second Momentum podcast, Young Witness and SMARTdaily. In her time off, Kylie indulges her love of shopping, always on the hunt for a fabulous bag or pair of shoes. She delights in having a good laugh with live comedy or listening to a great band. She enjoys good food with her husband and two sons. And a vodka cocktail always hits the spot!
